Reckless out of control deficit spending in the Congress is placing our nation deeper and deeper into debt while putting an unfair and crushing burden on generations of Americans not yet born. A balanced budget amendment to the United States Constitution that will restrict the Congress from continuing to spend money that it doesn't have is essential for the longer term security of our nation.