

(WASHINGTON, D.C.) – U.S. Rep. Mike Coffman (R-Colorado) today released the following statement on President Barack Obama’s first 100 days in office.

“In the first 100 days, the Obama administration has used the financial crisis as an excuse for reckless deficit spending and putting forward a budget plan that will drive our nation so deeply into debt that, for the first time in my life, I truly fear for the future of our country.”
